PRESIDENTIAL TRIVIA

1. The first US President was George Washington. He was attributed with cutting down a cherry tree and proclaiming, "I can not tell a lie, I did it with my little hatchet." There is no corroborating evidence that he actually did and said this. What biographer started this anecdote that has lasted well over two centuries since Washington's death?
 - a. Charles Wilson Peale
 - b. Martha Washington
 - c. Parson Weems
 - d. Washington Irving
2. John Adams was the second President of the US. His Presidency was the shortest one for any President that completed his term. Why is that?
 - a. There was no Lead Day in 1800
 - b. Inauguration Day was supposed to be on a Sunday, so it was moved un one day.
 - c. The Inauguration Day moved from March 4 to January 20, shorting his term by six weeks.
 - d. The weather was so bad on his scheduled Inauguration Day that it was pushed back one day
3. The third President of the US was Thomas Jefferson. Before becoming President in 1801, he served as Vice-President under John Adams. What was unique about this relationship?
 - a. Adams and Jefferson were both from the same state
 - b. Jefferson spent almost his entire term in Europe
 - c. Adams and Jefferson refused to speak to each other throughout the the four year term
 - d. Adams and Jefferson were from different political parties
4. The fourth President of the US was James Madison. Madison served two terms and had two different Vice Presidents, George Clinton and Elbridge Gerry. What did Clinton and Gerry have in common?
 - a. They were both signatories of the US Constitution
 - b. They both had been Senators
 - c. They were both from Connecticut
 - d. They both died while serving as Vice Pres.
5. James Monroe was US President number five. Monroe served in the Continental Army during the American Revolution. What was the highest rank he attained?
 - a. Colonel
 - b. Sergeant
 - c. General
 - d. Major
6. John Quincy Adams is the sixth President of the US. After serving as President, John Quinsy Adams did something that no other President hs ever done. What was it?
 - a. Serving in the House of Representatives
 - b. Writing his memoirs
 - c. Traveling around the world
 - d. Getting remarried
7. Andrew Jackson, the seventh President, was a war hero in the War of 1812 for the Battle of New Orleans. What EARLIER war was he also involved in?
 - a. The Seminole Wars
 - b. The American Revolution
 - c. The Mexican American War
 - d. The American Civil War
8. The eighth President, Martin Van Buren, Was the first President who was not of English descent (he was Dutch). What other first did Van Buren bring to the White House?
 - a. He was the first President born an American citizen
 - b. He was the first President not born in either Virginia or Massachusetts
 - c. He was the first Secretary of State to later become President
 - d. He was the first President never to have held elected office before winning the Presidency
9. The ninth President, William Henry Harrison, was known as "Tippecanoe" because of a battle he fought there with Native Americans. What is Tippecanoe?
 - a. A river in present-day Indiana
 - b. A fort in present-day Wisconsin
 - c. A mountain in present-day Ohio
 - d. A town in present-day Illinois
10. The tenth President of the US is John Tyler. When John Tyler died in 1862, his death was the only Presidential death not to be officially mourned in Washington. Why was this?
 - a. Tyler had been elected to the House of Representatives of the Confederacy
 - b. Washington was too preoccupied with the American Civil War to set aside time for Tyler
 - c. He wasn't recognized as a "true" President, as he had become President because of the death of his predecessor
 - d. Tyler had been traveling abroad and reports of his death reached Washington far too long after his death to officially mourn him.
