National Cereal Day - Celebrated Annually on March 7

Strange that the invention of breakfast cereal was founded on the fact that the American diet of the mid 1800's was a poor one packed with protein, booze and caffeine. Or maybe it's not so strange. After all, cereal was considered a remedy – a sort of 19th-century health or wonder food for the ailing masses. So if you're raising a milk-sopped spoonful of oats or bran or wheat today, give a little nod to National Cereal Day, which honors this classic morning meal and midnight snack on March 7.

Some Cereal History

Americans at the time of the Civil War were increasingly plagued with gastrointestinal issues due to their unhealthy, meat-based diet. Reformers of the 1860s viewed too much meat consumption as unwholesome, both physically and spiritually. It was believed by some that a high-protein diet contributed to lust and sloth and that constipation and other maladies of the gastrointestinal tract were God's punishment for too much pork and beef.

But before cereal took on loads of sugar, cartoon characters as marketing mascots and high profit margins of today, it was a food product of quite a different animal. Cereal back then was quite literally hard to swallow. Made of dense bran nuggets the cereal was so hard it had to be soaked overnight to make digestion not so taxing. Its taste was pretty bland, too.

Cereal Facts

Cap'n Crunch's full name is Horatio Magellan Crunch. He was born on Crunch Island in the Sea of Milk. In 2013, a food blogger noticed the Cap'n's uniform only sported three stripes instead of four. This would make him a Navy Commander, a step down from a true Captain. When word got out, Cap'n Crunch declared on Twitter, "Of course I'm a Cap'n! It's the Crunch—not the clothes—that make a man."

Kix cereal issued its atomic-energy inspired Lone Ranger ring in 1947. The ring actually contained trace amounts of radioactive polonium which glowed. Sadly, the material inside the rings had a short shelf life and none in existence work today.

Of the more than 314 million people in the U.S., 49 per cent start their day with a bowl of cereal.

Astronauts from Apollo 11 boosted their brain power while in space with a cereal breakfast. The cereal was mixed with fruit and pressed into cubes since the lack of gravity kept the astronauts from pouring it into a bowl with milk.

There are 2.7 billion boxes -- enough to wrap around the earth thirteen times -- of cereal sold every year.

Portales Mayor Sharon Lora King, 64, passed away peacefully on Thursday, March 1, 2018, in Lubbock, TX, after a 4 ½-year battle with multiple myeloma.

Memorial services will be at 2 p.m. Friday, March 9, 2018, at the First United Methodist Church in Portales, with Dr. Keith Wilks and Gayla Brumfield officiating, assisted by Christa King Vaudrey and Betty Williamson.

Her countless friends will be honorary pallbearers.

Sharon was born on December 23, 1953, in Downey, California, to Bo and Frankye King, joining older brother, Herkie (Clayton). While their little family moved around in her toddler years, they soon settled back into Portales near family.

During her school years, Sharon began her community service work that would eventually become the culmination of her life. She grew up in restaurants that her family managed and owned, including King's Restaurant, remembered by many locals. Her mother was a longtime Campfire leader, and Sharon was active in all the levels of membership: Bluebirds, Campfire Girls, and Horizon Club.

An active community member for her entire life, she was involved in an array of organizations. She enjoyed her membership in Altrusa, and was the past president of Rotary Club, also serving as a counselor for the Rotary Youth Leadership Award Camp.

To honor Sharon, family and friends ask that you consider supporting one of her favorite charities--the Multiple Myeloma Research Foundation, 383 Main Avenue, #5, Norwalk, CT, 06851-1586, or the Food Bank of Eastern New Mexico, 2217 E. Brady, Clovis, NM 88101—or make a donation to your favorite charity in her name. You are also invited to bring non-perishable food items to Sharon's memorial service. We ask that you honor Sharon by using your time, energy and finances in her memory in these ways.
